Lodge, Detroit Banker May Get Top GOP Posts

Their Choice By Ike For Key Assignments Hints Of Major Jobs

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower's choice of Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge and Detroit banker Joseph M. Dodge for key pre-inauguration assignments appeared today to assure them major posts in the new Republican administration.

Eisenhower yesterday named the Massachusetts GOP senator his liaison man to work with the expiring Truman administration in all federal agencies except one.

To the Budget Bureau as his personal representative the general appointed Dodge, a Republican with a long record of fiscal and other service in the outgoing Democratic regime.

The team of Lodge and Dodge, named after they and other GOP leaders conferred with the President-elect at his vacation headquarters, plans to get to work this week.

Lodge said he will start his liaison assignment Friday, working out of his Washington Senate office. Dodge reports to the Budget Bureau Wednesday.

Both men told a news conference they hope to have preliminary reports ready for Eisenhower when he confers at the White House next week with President Truman. That session, suggested by Truman, will deal with international and domestic problems as they relate to the forthcoming change in administration.

Truman also had urged Eisenhower to name liaison men. The President singled out the Defense and State Departments and the Budget Bureau, but Eisenhower designated Dodge to work with all federal agencies "where such liaison may prove useful in facilitating the transfer of public business from the old to the new administration."

Lodge, defeated last Tuesday in his bid for a new Senate term, is regarded as a likely Eisenhower choice for a cabinet post. He has been mentioned for secretary of defense or secretary of state and

Youngstown Kills 2, Self, Wounds Wife

YOUNGSTOWN, O. (AP) — A 50-year-old real estate man today shot and killed two of his sisters-in-law, critically wounded his wife, then killed himself when police cornered him in a basement.

Patrolman Joseph Alexander said the man, Edward Porfiero, apparently was crazed by a desire for revenge. He had been indicted two weeks ago on charges of trying to seduce his daughter, Jane, 19.

Police gave this story of the shootings:

Porfiero, who had been living away from home since his indictment, strode into the home of Mrs. Edith Mitchell, 36, this morning and shot her down.

Then he set fire to the house. When police and firemen arrived, Patrolman Alexander saw Porfiero running across back lots toward his wife's home and gave chase.

By the time police got to the other house, just around the corner, Porfiero had killed another sister-in-law, Mrs. Margaret Sirocco, 30, and shot his wife, Lena, 34.

Mrs. Porfiero is in poor condition with a neck wound at South Side Hospital. Neighbors saw her sitting on her back porch shortly after the shooting with blood streaming down her body.

Ohio Adjutant To Be Speaker At Legion Armistice Dinner

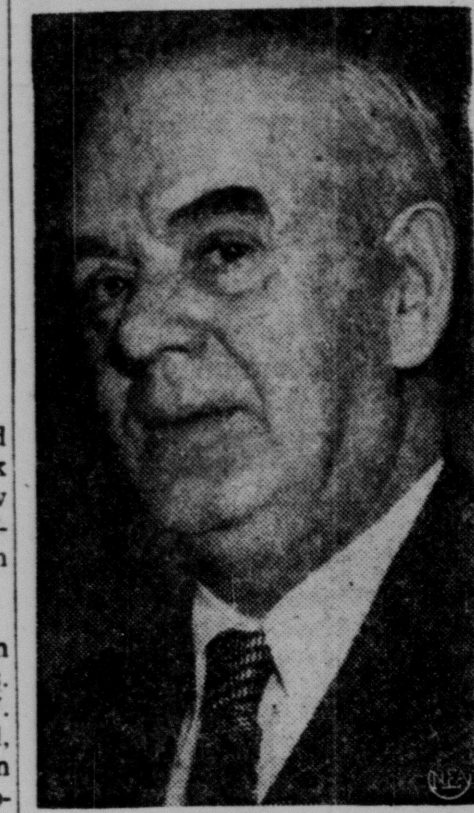

Joseph S. Deutschie, Ohio department adjutant of the American Legion, will be guest speaker at the local Legion post's annual Armistice Day dinner Tuesday at 6:30 p.m. at the post home.

A veteran of both world wars Mr. Deutschie has held the adjutant's office since September of 1946. He is key figure in an organization of more than 130,000 veterans who are members of over 700 Legion posts.

Mr. Deutschie has had a colorful career, having been a newspaperman many years, an aide to a Legion national commander, a civilian defense executive, Veterans Administration official and Legion administrator.

He was once an employee of the Associated Press and served five years as editor of The Ohio American Legion News, a position he left to become aide to Milo J. Warner of Toledo, then Legion commander, for a year.

In World War I Mr. Deutschie served two years as a private in the engineers. He was an Army public relations officer during late yesterday. It was to be transferred in Chicago to a Pennsylvania Railroad train, scheduled to reach Pittsburgh tomorrow.

Although Murray had not been in good health, his death came as a shock to friends, associates, and even his antagonists in some of the bitterest council table battles between management and labor.

Telegrams of condolence poured in from all sections of the country... from President Truman and high-ranking government officials... from William Green of the AFL and John L. Lewis of the United Mine Workers... from Ben Fairless of U. S. Steel and Ben Moreell of Jones and Laughlin.

A thin, white-thatched man who never lost the faint Scots burr in his voice, Murray likewise never lost the ardor of trade unionism from his heart.

A mine worker at the age of 10, he spent the night before his death at a meeting of his United Steelworkers, whose presidency he

Allied Infantry Drives Reds Off 2 Vital Crests

Savage Battles Last 11 Hours On Korea's Eastern Front Hills

SEOUL (AP) — Allied infantrymen in 11 hours of savage close-quarter fighting today drove 1,300 North Korean Reds off two strategic hills on Korea's Eastern Front.

The Reds attacked in waves Sunday night behind a curtain of 4,000 rounds of artillery and mortar fire. They captured the crest of Anchor Hill at 6 a.m. and smashed to the top of another hill to the south at 6:25.

The U.N. troops counterattacked almost immediately. They stormed back to the top of the second hill in just 15 minutes.

The Reds fought with bitter determination from the top of Anchor, but the Allies were not to be denied. They reached the top at 8 a.m. and closed with the Reds.

Allied warplanes swooped low and pounded the Reds with bombs and searing jelled gasoline.

The U. S. Eighth Army said Anchor's crest was secured at 9:30 a.m.

Elsewhere little action was reported along the 155-mile ground front.

AP correspondent Robert Tuckman reported today that Gen. James A. Van Fleet will leave as Eighth Army commander within 60 days. Tuckman said it had been learned on good authority that Van Fleet's next assignment probably hinged on conversations with President-elect Eisenhower when he visits Korea.

Van Fleet toured the front Sunday with Anna Rosenberg, assistant U. S. secretary of defense.

To the west of the Kumhwa hills, an Allied raiding party was encircled by 80 Chinese Sunday night. The U.N. troops fought their way out of the trap with hand grenades and chattering machine guns.

They said 34 of the Chinese were killed or wounded.

U. S. B26 Invader bombers attacked Communist road and rail lines during the night. The U. S. Fifth Air Force said 90 Red trucks were destroyed. B29 Superforts roared deep into North Korea in attacks on Red supply dumps.

Armistice Day Memorial Rites Set For City

Members of the city's four veterans' organizations—American Legion, Amvets, Veterans of Foreign Wars and Disabled American Veterans—will cooperate in conducting an Armistice Day memorial service Tuesday at 11 a.m. at the Memorial Building.

Taps will be played and volleys will be fired at 11. Following the service, the Legion post's firing squad will go to Grandview Cemetery to fire volleys over the graves.

Salem residents are urged to display flags throughout the day. Churches are asked to ring their bells at 11 and shops are requested to blow their whistles.

Citizens are also asked to observe two minutes of silence when 11 strikes.

At least three city groups will hear speakers at their banquets in the evening.

Joseph S. Deutschie, adjutant of the Legion's Ohio department, will speak at the Legion banquet at 6:30 at the post. Leonard Wolfe of Cleveland, national judge advocate of the Dads' Club of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, will address V.F.W. members at 6:30 at the post.

BEAM MAKES JUNK OF AUTOMOBILE—Walter Harris, owner of this car, heard a loud thud outside the building in which he works in Tulsa, Okla. He looked out and saw his auto nearly split in two by a 21,000-pound pre-cast concrete beam. The beam was being set in place adjacent to the building where Harris is employed. It slipped and fell 20 feet, but didn't break a rear view mirror on the car. No one was injured.

Knox Township's New GOP Legislators, School Is Dedicated Ike May Confer

Approximately 1,200 persons attended the dedication Sunday afternoon of the new $356,000 Knox Township elementary school.

Dr. Wallace N. Jamison, chairman of the Department of History at Westminster College, gave the principal address. Throngs inspected the 15-classroom school during the open house.

School Supervisor John Pickens presided at the dedication program.

Mr. Jamison stressed the importance of passing on to our children "that which we hold dear."

He also explained that the earliest people to promote education were the Jews, who wanted to be able to learn the will of God and realized that education would be a means through which this could be accomplished.

He pointed out that a school is no greater than the community which produces it. "This is your school—take care of it."

County School Supt. James McBride told the audience that the Knox Elementary School is one of the finest in northeastern Ohio.

Music was provided by the Goshen Union High School band with Allen West, director, and the Junior Study Club of Alliance with Anna Mae Cochran, director, and Joann Gross, accompanist.

Mrs. Charles Antram presented classroom flags in behalf of the North Georgetown American Legion Auxiliary. Invocation was given by Rev. Donald K. McGarrah, pastor of the Middle Sandy Presbyterian Church of Homeworth, and benediction by Rev. Raymond Ridsen, pastor of Reading Church of the Brethren.

Refreshments were served, concluding the program, and classrooms were open for inspection.

First Bond Issue Passed
The Knox school is the fulfillment of a plan formulated by members of the Knox Local Board of Education in 1944, at which time Atlee P. Freshley was president and Ralph L. Bradley was vice president.

Planning the yearly event are Rex Reich, Clyde Arthur and Charles Dimko. George King, commander, said today that 75 members and guests are expected at the dinner which will be served by the members of the Gold Star Auxiliary.

REHOVOT, Israel (AP)—Dr. Chaim Weizmann, 77-year-old father of Israel, will be buried tomorrow near his home here in the Promised Land he helped build and led as its first President.

Messages of sympathy for the sorrowing young nation poured in from world leaders, including President Truman, Queen Elizabeth II and U. N. Secretary-General Trygve Lie, following Dr. Weizmann's death from a heart attack early yesterday.

The President's mansion, on the coastal plain 10 miles from Tel Aviv, was open to the public today. A solemn line of Israelites, some crying openly and some quietly chanting Hebrew prayers, passed the black-draped catafalque on which the body of world Zionism's greatest leader lay in state.

Special trains brought pilgrims to pay their last respects. Across Israel, all places of entertainment were closed in mourning and the blue and white flag of the nation hung at half staff. Crowds gathered at crossroads and corners in smaller settlements to hear loudspeaker bulletins on the President's death and funeral arrangements.

Premier David Ben-Gurion called his Cabinet together yesterday for a memorial session for the old statesman, who, before he became Israel's chief of government, and won renown as president of the World Zionist Organization and as a chemist and scholar.

The Cabinet decreed that all work will stop tomorrow, the day of the state funeral.

Among the first to travel to Rehovot to express condolences to the President's widow, Mrs. Vera Weizmann, was acting President Joseph Sprinzak, speaker of the Israel Knesset (Parliament). During Weizmann's prolonged illness this past year, Sprinzak replaced him at state functions. A leading mem-

Deaf Hear Over Phone With Clarity, Ease

CHICAGO, Ill. (Special)—A sensational new electrical development enabling the deaf to hear over the telephone with miraculous ease and clarity has been developed by Stanley Webster, noted Chicago acoustical engineer.

In a remarkable demonstration he showed how, by the mere flick of the finger, the "Magic Phone Clarifier" eliminates all disturbing outside noises and that only the voice of the person on the telephone is heard.

To acquaint the hard of hearing readers of this paper with this amazing new electronic development, full details are described in a fascinating illustrated booklet which will be sent to anyone who requests it.

If interested for yourself or a friend, simply send your request to Mr. Stanley Webster, Electronic Research Director, Dept. Greg-You, 1450 W. 19th St., Chicago 8, Ill. A postcard will do. (Adv.)

Ohio Pen Recreation Program Pondered

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—One of the unanswered problems at Ohio Penitentiary today in the wake of last week's rioting was recreation and the intra-mural sports program once pushed by prison officials.

The Pen's recreation program has been applauded by penal experts in the country. But Warden Ralph W. Alvis said he hasn't given much thought to what the future recreation program might be.

These activities included free play periods, intramural competition in horseshoes and softball, intramural games with out-of-prison teams, and social recreation in art and writers' groups.

Three football games of the Hurricanes, the prison team, were canceled because of the riots.

Sunday Alvis said some of the instigators of the five-day riot had been placed in single cells. A board of inquiry will determine their punishment. Declining to say how many were in solitary, the warden indicated all of the major culprits had not been determined.

In the early days of Rome the first of the year fell on Dec. 21 (the winter solstice).

Armistice Day Program Set

Librarians To Speak To Rotary Members

COLUMBIANA — Firestone American Legion Post will conduct the annual Armistice Day observance in the Columbiana schools at 1 p.m. tomorrow, the Legion and the V.F.W. having charge of the program in alternate years.

A student assembly in the High School auditorium has been arranged for the program, beginning at 1 p.m., in charge of the chairman, L. D. Bair, who will lead the pledge of allegiance to the flag. Russell Barrow will be the speaker and will talk on "Americanism." Rev. Donald J. Voelm of Grace Evangelical and Reformed Church will offer the closing prayer.

The program will be interspersed with selections by the High School band.

Columbiana banks and the loan company will be closed tomorrow in observance of the day.

The Rotary Club will meet in the dining room of Grace Evangelical and Reformed Church this evening as its usual gathering place, Valley Golf Club, is closed during November while the proprietors, Mr. and Mrs. John Ryan, are in Florida.

Hal Johnson, program chairman, has arranged to have Mrs. R. E. Weaver and Mrs. Virginia Felger, librarians of the Columbiana public library, as the speakers. They will give the story of the origin and development of the local library, and facts about the number of books and their circulation.

In recognition of Armistice day, W. B. Arn, who has charge of Kiwanis Club programs, has arranged to have Commander Melvin Meahl of the Youngstown Naval Reserve as the speaker at the club meeting this evening.

Blood typing of Columbiana Village and Fairfield Township adults will begin at the High School building at 6:45 p.m. today, when Columbiana residents who voted at the Koch Motor Co. are to report. School children, except kindergarten pupils, who were not typed with other school children recently, may be typed if accompanied by a parent. Fairfield Township residents may report any time.

Columbiana residents who voted at the city hall are to report tomorrow evening. All blood typing sessions are scheduled for 6:45 to 8:45 p.m.

High School mothers are eligible to membership in the Parent-Teacher Organization, the former Grade School Mothers' Club, and are invited to the meeting in the High School building at 8 p.m. Wednesday. The name of the club was changed because it was sometimes confused with the Columbiana Mothers' Club, organized earlier, to the inconvenience of both, and to make its work more comprehensive by including High School mothers. Elaine Carroll of WKBN, Youngstown, will give a talk at the meeting Wednesday evening.

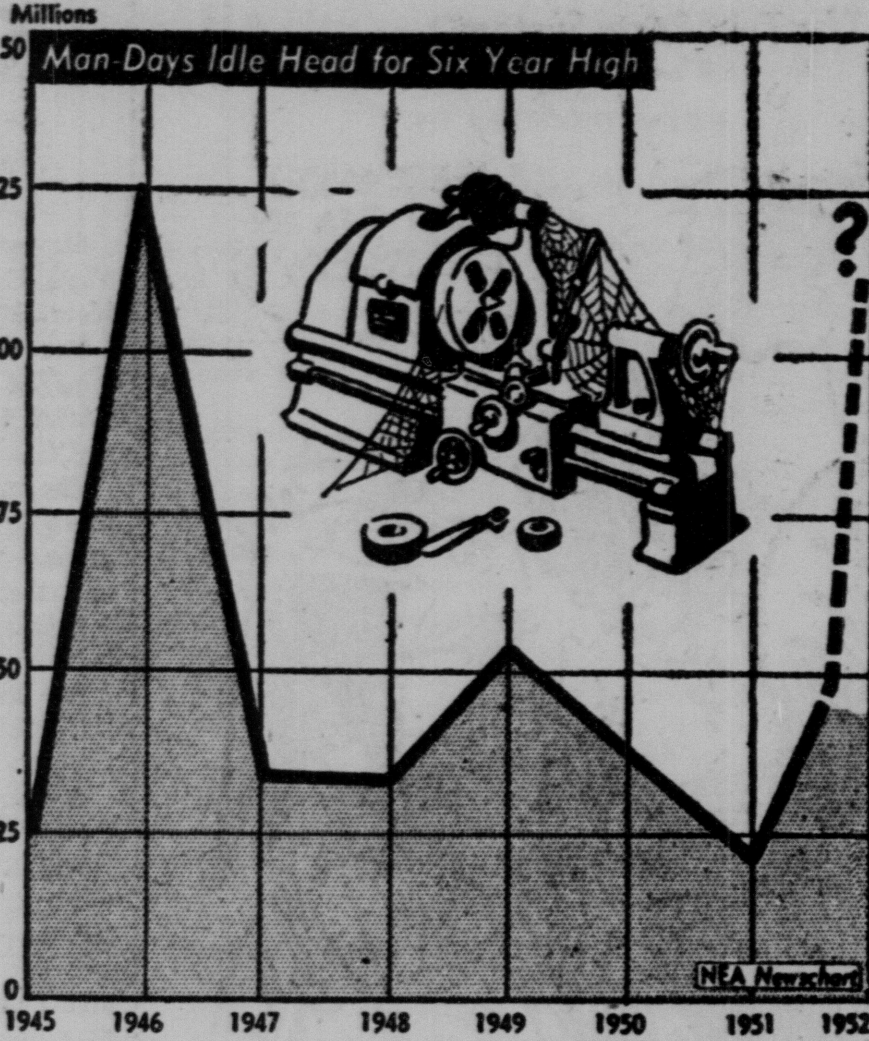

Inspection is planned for Pandora Rebekah Lodge next Monday evening, Nov. 17, in the High School building, its temporary meeting place. In the absence of the district deputy, Mrs. Lucile Plum of Alliance, who will be unable to attend, the inspection will be made by Mrs. Katherine Pyle of East Palestine. Each member is to take small plate, cup, fork and spoon.

Rep. Powell Says U. S. Is Too Nationalistic

NEW YORK (AP) — Rep. Adam Clayton Powell Jr. (D-NY) says "America has not made a single original contribution to civilization except the Negro spiritual and the atomic bomb."

Powell, who is pastor of the Abyssinian Baptist Church here, said in a sermon yesterday that the church is "the only hope for civilization."

The Negro Congressman said, "The trouble with America is that our values are not religious but nationalistic. Our slogan is not God's way but the American way."

MAN-DAYS of production lost this year because of strikes is expected to exceed those of any postwar year since 1946, when 125 million man-days idle were recorded during the steel, coal, electrical and automobile stoppages. The bulk of days lost through the first eight months of this year was due to the steel strike, and only the prompt settlement of the soft coal dispute has lessened the chances for equaling or exceeding man-days lost in 1946. Data in Newschart above are from the National Industrial Conference Board, and from the Department of Labor.

Fog Blankets Ohio

COLUMBUS, O. (AP) — Much of Ohio was shrouded in fog Sunday as warm weather from the South clashed with cold Buckeye air, the weather bureau reported. But a cold front blowing from the northwest was expected to dispel the fog. Many plane flights were cancelled because of the low visibility.

Kazmayer To Talk At Three Schools

Robert Kazmayer, lecturer and frequent traveler in Europe, will speak at three district high schools on Tuesday, Nov. 18, the Economic and Business Foundation announced today.

Mr. Kazmayer also will speak at the Salem Chamber of Commerce's annual dinner that evening.

He will speak earlier in the day at Lisbon and Leetonia High schools and in the afternoon at Goshen Union High School.

Another representative of the Economic Foundation, Dr. Charles Noble, will address Salem High School students on Nov. 21.

C. A. A. Probes Mishap

Aeronautics Administration is investigating today a blast which shattered the propeller of the plane of Ed Cassidy of Wauseon. Cassidy was flying near Reading, Mich., at 1,200 feet when the ship was jolted Sunday. The pilot said he was able to nurse the plane back to the airport. The broken propeller had "all the earmarks of bullets," Cassidy said.

Leftovers

On Nov. 2, Wilson Wyatt was confident the Democrats would carry 32 states and garner
at least 400 electoral votes.

On the night of Nov. 4, with New York
already conceded by Democrats on the scene, Chairman Mitchell of the Democratic national committee, reassured party workers that everything was going to be all right.

On Nov. 2, Rep. Kirwan, the Ohio Democrat who was chairman of the Democratic congressional campaign committee, said his party would have a working majority in the new House of Representatives.

The former Democratic national chairman,
Frank E. McKinney, said on Oct. 26 his party would get a minimum of 204 electoral votes.
Sen. Monroney of Oklahoma, a Democrat, thought in Oct. 22 that it would "take a political miracle for the Republicans to get a single electoral vote in the South."

Harry Truman said not once but many times that "another great victory for the Democratic party" was in the bag.

States like Ohio, Illinois, New Jersey, California, Iowa, Pennsylvania and Maryland were put in the bag so often by Wyatt, Mitchell, Jack Kroll of the PAC, Vice President Barkley
and other pre-election soothsayers that they were worn out.

Gov. Stevenson, himself, could see a great day coming whenever he looked ahead.

Be of good cheer if you, too, said some things you must eat. It happens every time.
The bigger the soothsayers, the bigger the post-election indigestion.

Back In Balance

"Clearing everything with Sidney" has been voted out of Washington.

John Lewis, Philip Murray, Walter Reuther, William Green and Jack Kroll will now go back to being what they always were in fact—union leaders.

The 1952 election has destroyed the myth that no president could be elected without their support as union politicians.

It has been demonstrated conclusively that when most of the eligible voters of the United States go to the polls, labor-union minority influence can be kept in balance in public affairs.

Dwight Eisenhower owes nothing to the labor-union politicians who supported Adlai Stevenson with their mouths and with their members'
funds. He owes gratitude only to those union members who voted as they pleased. Apparently, a great many of them pleased to vote contrary to the dictates of their leaders.

The president-elect will enter the White House
as the choice of all the people. There will be no special priority after next January for union leaders who want to arrange deals with the head of the government. Murray has fixed his last deal and so has Lewis.

There never has been and never will be any objection to bona fide labor organizations. But there has been a rising resentment of labor-union politicians wriggling into political power through the back door.

The resentment has made union endorsements a political liability in local and state politics. They now have become a liability at the presidential level.

Both parties are dedicated to the advancement of the working people of the United States. Only one party made the error of dedicating itself to the advancement of union bosses
with an itch for political power.

No Miracles On Tap

Largely as the result of distortion by speakers for the opposition, Gen. Eisenhower's promise to visit Korea if elected has been twisted into a promise to end the Korean war.

He did not say or imply that he could end
the war.

There are no miracles on tap.

There is only the promise of a man of integrity to learn first-hand about the problem in Korea.

It is not a military problem primarily which needs to be learned about. That is in capable hands. The mystery in Korea is about the State Department's policy toward the government of South Korea.

Someone needs to learn on the scene what
the United States has been doing to Syngman Rhee, president of the Korean republic. Someone needs to learn — on the scene — whether or not the military problem of the Korean war has been needlessly complicated by diplomatic high-jinks like those which caused Chiang Kai-shek to flee to Formosa and turn over the republic of China to "agrarian reformers."

A vast amount of blood has been spilled in Korea. A country has been reduced to rubble.
A military incident has grown into a war which may go on for years to come.

There are many things to be learned in Korea besides information about military problems. The next president of the United States will need to learn them on the scene. He cannot depend on finding out what he wants to know in the records of the State Department.

New Republicanism

By RAYMOND MOLEY

GOP Victory Shared By Everybody

The victory was too big to be claimed by anybody, but it was big enough to be shared by everybody who helped. That is the real significance of such a nationwide sweep.

It has crossed all sectional lines,
all political spheres of influence,
and all economic and social divisions. That makes it a real national decision.

It has placed Eisenhower in a position to create what will be a substantially reconstructed party.
Now, after a lapse of a century,
we can have a genuine two-party system.

The two-headed elephant with which Gov. Stevenson had so much fun has in the magic of victory become a big, normal, one-headed creature.

Had the eastern Republican leaders won their states with the Midwest lagging, there would already be suggestions to reconstruct the party in the image of the eastern faction. Had the Midwest decided the election, there would be loud demands that the so-called inter-nationalists get out of the picture.

But both political persuasions were able to win, and both can share in the constructive work that lies ahead.

Leaders of all shades of opinion
in the party can, and should, face
the future in a spirit of good will and compromise.

There is common ground for all,
and that common ground is far from the area which the Roosevelt-Truman party staked out for itself.
The capture of southern states by Eisenhower can well be the beginning of the end of the sorry rift
that has plagued our party politics
since Reconstruction days.

There is definitely a means of compromising the civil rights issue that will provide for justice and at the same time respect the sovereignty of the southern states.

The new president might well summon all southern leaders and place the responsibility before them to adjust the remaining issues in that field by state authority.

By a wide process of party building, a healthy Republican party can grow in most of the states of the South.

Even more important than the bridging of these factional and sectional divisions is the task of making the Republican party really representative of all economic groups.

For more than sixteen years—
I should say roughly since 1936—
the spirit of class has been cultivated by the administration in Washington.

This was a course deliberately chosen by President Roosevelt to assure himself of vast majorities
in the cities and labor centers. It will be written in impartial history
that this was one of the more unfortunate sides of his statesmanship.

President Truman has more crudely and energetically promoted this class feeling.

In this election the voters have been wiser and less selfish than they were conceived to be. Farmers, wage earners and businessmen of all sorts have raised their sights.

They have seen in the leadership of Eisenhower a means of protecting the great national welfare, rather than their many, assorted little welfares.

The great middle interests of the country have at last found common ground, and because they represent the real majority, they have prevailed.

Not for many years, perhaps not since James Monroe or George Washington, has a president enjoyed such an opportunity to speak for a united country.

And we can feel assured that Gen. Eisenhower has not only the heart but the mind to make the most of that rare chance.

GIs In Korea Still Laugh

By RAY FALK

TOKYO

The sweetness of victory and the bitterness of retreat, the peculiarities of the military system and the foibles of first sergeants and colonels are recorded in a best-selling book of cartoons called
"Out of Line."

It is a collection of cartoons submitted to Pacific Stars and Stripes
by men who lived and fought the Korean War. The artists have been truck drivers in supply units, riflemen in forward bunkers, navigators on B-29s and radarmen on destroyers.

Other cartoons comment on the bewildered and enthusiastically
curious young American who suddenly finds himself surrounded by Oriental culture. Chopsticks and girls receive full attention.

The cartoonists in Korea and in Japan have laughed at their own weaknesses and prejudices, much to their credit.

In a foreword the editors of Stars and Stripes state that the artists' "Work is testimony to the best in American traditions and to the courage and strength of the free men of 21 nations who joined the fight for their freedom."

A well-represented contributor is William Hume of the Navy whose young sailor character has returned home but cannot rid himself of the Oriental habits he picked up over here. He presents his young son with a ricksha instead of a bicycle and tells him "Now you can make your own spending money."

He tries to work out his income tax on an abacus under the worried gaze of his wife, or he lays out the quilts on the floor, Japanese style, and tells his wife and boy "Now, even if you do fall out, you won't get hurt." His wife goes out shopping, and he says "Ten dollars, huh? How much is that in yen?"

With numerous nations participation to the American way of life
difficult, most of the other artists have found adjustment to war and to Japan befuddling.

With numerous nations participation in the United Nations police action, identification is not always easy. One GI is overheard saying to another, "I think they're British.
Do you know any British?"

In another cartoon a GI sticks his bayonet into a Korean and tells his buddy "I don't care if he does say 'sho nuff,' 'right smart,' and
'you-all,' I still think he's a North Korean and not a South Korean."

There is one about a medical corpman who brings in a casualty and reports to the doctor, "Very unusual case, sir. Claims he broke his leg tripping over the 38th Parallel."

Promotion is an important issue with most men. It was most definitely with the private whose tail gunner was shot down. As the tail end of the plane heads for the earth, he shouts from the cabin
of the plane, "Great scott, man!
This means an opening for sergeant."

Politicians and diplomats come in for their share of the ribbing.
Says one muffled soldier to another, "Wish those guys at the peace conference would hurry it up, my feet are gettin' cold."

Another one, sitting in a bunker
reading an American paper, comments, "Says here American assets are frozen in Korea—as if we didn't know." When the fighting resumed, after weeks of quiet, and two GIs are pinned down by artillery fire, one remarks, "Guess somebody said the wrong thing at

The Gal Who Learned Of The Two-Party System

Jowitt And Hiss

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

For some months now the report has been coming from London that the Earl of Jowitt has been writing a book on the trials
and tribulations

of Alger Hiss. The report suggests that Jowitt
would exonerate Alger Hiss.

Jowitt says that he does not know who sent the transcript of the trial to him. Such a transcript would run into tens of thousands of dollars. Yet he claims that the sender remained anonymous.

On the other hand my own correspondents give me the name of the British journalist who forwarded the transcript which he obviously could not afford to pay for.
The book I understand will be published in London by Hodder & Stoughton Ltd. and that an American contract is in negotiation.

THESE REPORTS coming from London provide other details to which reference can be made later. I think that I know who arranged to have the transcript sent over to Jowitt and who helped in the transaction but I do not yet know who put up the money. That will show up under investigation.

The Earl of Jowitt is a man of distinction. He has been a Labor member of Parliament, attorney-general, member of the Royal Commission on Lunacy, solicitor general, postmaster-general, lord chancellor, and was elevated to the peerage in 1951.

His scholarship and experience
cannot be contested.

That he should have undertaken
such a task is astonishing, as what it amounts to is that a British lawyer sets himself to contest
the judgment of a federal grand jury, two trials before juries, appeals up to the Supreme Court of the United States and the decision of a federal court in an appeal for a new trial.

IF JOWITT can prove that all these juries and all these courts, including the Supreme Court of the United States, were wrong, then,

the entire judicial system of the United States stands impeached.

It will be interesting when this book appears, to see how the British lawyer compares our judicial system with the British and proves that it has denied an American citizen full justice in a case involving perjury over an issue of espionage and conspiracy which had run the course of the statute of limitations.

It is curious that the friends of Alger Hiss should have turned to a British lawyer. Apparently they had exhausted the American bar.
It is to be wondered what the British bar would think of an American lawyer intervening in a British trial.

What would the British think of an American lawyer intervening in the case of Dr. Klaus Fuchs to prove that he was entitled to give Soviet Russia the secrets of the atom bomb?

EARL JOWITT, although a La-borite, is not regarded as a left-winger. He is a man of intellectual substance. His work will be taken seriously by jurists throughout the world.

At the age of 67, reading the transcript of the trials alone must have been a stupendous task.

The Alger Hiss case will probably be with us as long as Hiss lives. A hard core of Hiss's friends seek his exoneration. Some of them firmly believe that he could not have been guilty; others reject the personality and veracity of Whittaker Chambers; others are Communist or pro-Communist and will defend anyone accused of complicity

in the world-wide Russian conspiracy.

These people will continue to fight for him.

HOWEVER, the Hiss case, which is only one item in a long record
of conspiracy against our country is fully documented and proved.

It needs to be pointed out that this case was processed by the FBI; that it could have been started in 1939 while Hiss was still in the government; that he could have been held on charges other than perjury had the Department of Justice so desired after the information had been laid before A.
A. Berle, Jr., then assistant secretary of State; that Berle was gott off of the way in the State Department and eventually out of the government.

The investigation of the Institute of Pacific Relations and of Americans employed in the United Nations by the McCarran committee is producing additional data and the forthcoming hearings before the Cox committee of the House of Representatives dealing with foundations will open a new field.

Earl Jowitt has only been sent a fragment of the still growing evidence concerning this conspiracy.

No Love Lost

By TRUMAN TWILL

While sweeping up the clutter of the late campaign, we came across a reminder to say something about friction between politicians and newspapermen.

It is like the friction between dogs and cats. While there are examples of compatibility between these animals, as there are in the case of politicians and newspapermen, a basic feeling of distrust
may lash out in a fury of teeth
and claws on the slightest provocation.

By the time the campaign had roared down to the finish line,
newspapers were getting you-know-what from the side which was running behind. Simultaneously, the side which was running ahead was getting you-know-what
from many of the newspapermen
assigned to the job of reporting its activities. There was no love lost either way.

This is one aspect of the friction usually disregarded by casual observers — that newspapermen
at the working level are professional reporters, not policy makers
or special pleaders. When a politician sneers that he is being given an unfair deal, he may be taking a poke at a group of people with a sense of ethics so much better developed than his that he has no ethics at all by comparison.

But the real trouble is the fact that politicians are trying to do one thing and the press is trying to do another. Most politicians are trying to make large numbers of people believe that what they say is true, whether it is true or not.

Working newspapermen are trying to get at the truth objectively.
Truth to them is a commodity.
They are paid to deal in it,
even if it hurts. And politicians are not the only ones who resent this. They just happen to be the only ones whose resentment is heard.

If politicians "run for editor" in a speech, the newspapers always report it. In recent years, the politicians have been able to kick the stuffings out of newspapers over the radio, and more recently on television. They make no secret of their feelings.

All newspapermen know that the politicians hope to get rid of them some day. The first thing that happens under an authoritarian government is seizure of the press,
and every politico is a potential authoritarian. That's why eternal vigilance is the price of liberty.

In the United States, thanks to some farsighted work in the early days, there is a mousetrap in the Constitution to nip politicians who try to seize the press. It says on the mousetrap that the right of the people to find out the truth shall not be abridged.

So the friction goes on and on.
Dwight Eisenhower, the president-elect, has had his troubles with newspapermen, though he is only an apprentice in politicking.

Harry Truman has been "running for editor" for years.
Franklin Roosevelt despised the press, though in his earlier days
it had enabled him to put over his program.

Herbert Hoover never did understand why the press had to be put up with as part of his official duties. Calvin Coolidge was uncomfortable about it. Warren G.
Harding, who had been a newspaperman himself, had a bad
time with the press, which goes to show the incompatibility of politicking and newspapering.

Once Over

By H. I. PHILLIPS

The Republican Victory

Stevenson carried Bankhead, Bogart, Bacall, Faye Emerson and Wayne Morse, with complete returns from Harry Truman still missing.
The voters came through with two new slogans of their own, "Enough is enough" and
"After twenty years, anything needs renovating."

The more you study the election results, the more it seems that Adlai got only the votes of groups which announced at the last minute
that they had switched to him.

Truman got the White House remodeled just in time for new tenants.

But there is no truth to the rumor Jimmy Durante has cancelled Margaret's contract and tried to sign up Mamie.

Washington can now be referred to as "Ike's Peake."

The Republicans had been out so long that when the returns were announced Lincoln's bed dropped six slats, Theodore Roosevelt stepped out of the oil painting and slapped Cool-idge's likeness on the back and the portrait of McKinley started singing "Some Enchanted Evening."

The presidential yacht blew a gasket and the Truman piano developed a list to port and began playing, "Down the Trail of Lonesome Hearts" then went into Tosti's "Good-bye" without the touch of a human hand

Ike should send a message to Harry thanking him for his violent nonsupport. Stevenson almost talked himself out of the Chicago nomination. Harry talked him out of the election victory. After Truman had made his second whistle-stop speech it was certain Ike could lose only if the President lost his voice.

The election proves that it is possible to be as obsolete as the wooden icebox, button shoes and bicycle toe clips.

The Democrats have been in power since the days of Tom Thumb golf, silent pictures, the Florodora Sextette and Tommy Manville's first marriage.

The election result was a victory for "Stop,
Look and Listen" signs, simple arithmetic,
horse sense, balance sheets, American traditions and the idea that a barrel must have a bottom.

It was a triumph for a sense of direction over dizziness, thrift over bingo, foresight over gid-diness and the theory that life is just a matter of waltzing in the dark under federal dancing masters.

The notion supported by some of our intellectuals that corruption doesn't matter unless it is unanimous was kayoed, as were the ideas
that communism should be handled with kid gloves, that the national debt can be solved
by revolving mirrors and that there is no end
to a razzle-dazzle.

"Don't let them take it away!" boomeranged into "Cart it off; its beginning to scent up the joint."

The only fellow who today is taking with a smile the saying, "You never had it so good,"
is the lad who has the contract for taking down
the campaign banners, cleaning up the con-
fetti and storing away the voting machines.
Gen. Eisenhower made a landing on a beachhead held for twenty years by the Democrats,
and did it without barges.

It is so long since the Republicans have won
a national election that there is still a widespread mood of unbelief. A generation has sprung up which has never seen anybody but a Democrat in the White House.

Ike will be a curiosity for the first few months; a sort of believe-it-or-not figure. He will bring color, vitality, drive and punch to Washington. (It will mean less flamboyant beach shirts at Key West and no White House parties for Humphrey Bogart and Lauren Bacall.)

Ike has a talent for bringing men together
and he does it without calling people names, going berserk at a writing desk, or naming a new commission every hour on the hour.

We have a hunch Adlai isn't taking it too hard. He never struck us as a man who wanted the White House task too much, and it is possible nothing startles him more than condolences accompanied by "Wait until 1956!"
The governor made a fine impression with the American people and they all wish him
well.

These are times when the public goes for entertainment and, with a few more good stories,
Adlai might have won at that.

To this department there was one very significant thing about Ike's triumph . . . it proved it possible to win the presidency without the support of Tallulah Bankhead. The big question is how she will react. This could mean war.

VA Hospital Program Hit

'Sinister Inroads' Made, Doctor Claims

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The Veterans Administration is making "sinister inroads" on the American economic structure through its hospital program, a medical leader charged today.

Dr. R. J. Wilkinson of Huntington, W. Va., president of the Southern Medical Association—the world's second largest organization of doctors—declared in an address prepared for the SMA's 46th annual meeting:

"More and more V.A. hospitals are being erected each year at a staggering cost to the taxpayer, notwithstanding the tragic and glaring fact that many of them are only partly filled, and then only by veterans who are not rightly entitled to this service."

He said, without amplification, that "it is reported that approximately 90 per cent of those treated have nonservice connected disabilities, and many of these probably do not need hospitalization."

"A careful study might reveal the startling fact," he added, "that many of those who are admitted are encouraged to be dishonest by falsifying their application in claiming pauperism..."

(V.A. regulations provide that any veteran with a nonservice-connected ailment can obtain free hospitalization—if "space" is available and if he states that he is unable to pay.)

Declaring that the disabled veteran with service-connected disability should be given "the finest type of medical and nursing care," the doctor suggested that all V.A. hospitals in close proximity to medical schools should be devoted exclusively to such patients.

"The remaining hospitals, and those under construction," he said, "should be given to the states, counties or cities, provided they are operated for the care of the sick, be they mental, tubercular, or public general hospitals."

"A plan of this kind would largely solve the hospital bed shortage that exists in practically every state in the union..."

Wilkinson said he was "shocked and amazed" at the "hands off attitude" of the American Medical Association towards the Veterans Administration hospital program.

Woman Wrecks Car, Lies 29 Hours In Rain

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—A 37-year-old mother lay injured for 29 hours in the rain and cold beside her wrecked car, which had plunged 200 feet down into a canyon.

Mrs. Britta S. England was discovered by accident yesterday by two hikers. She was hospitalized with head injuries and possible fractures of ribs and her right shoulder.

Her husband Karl and their son Robert, 12, had searched for her in vain.

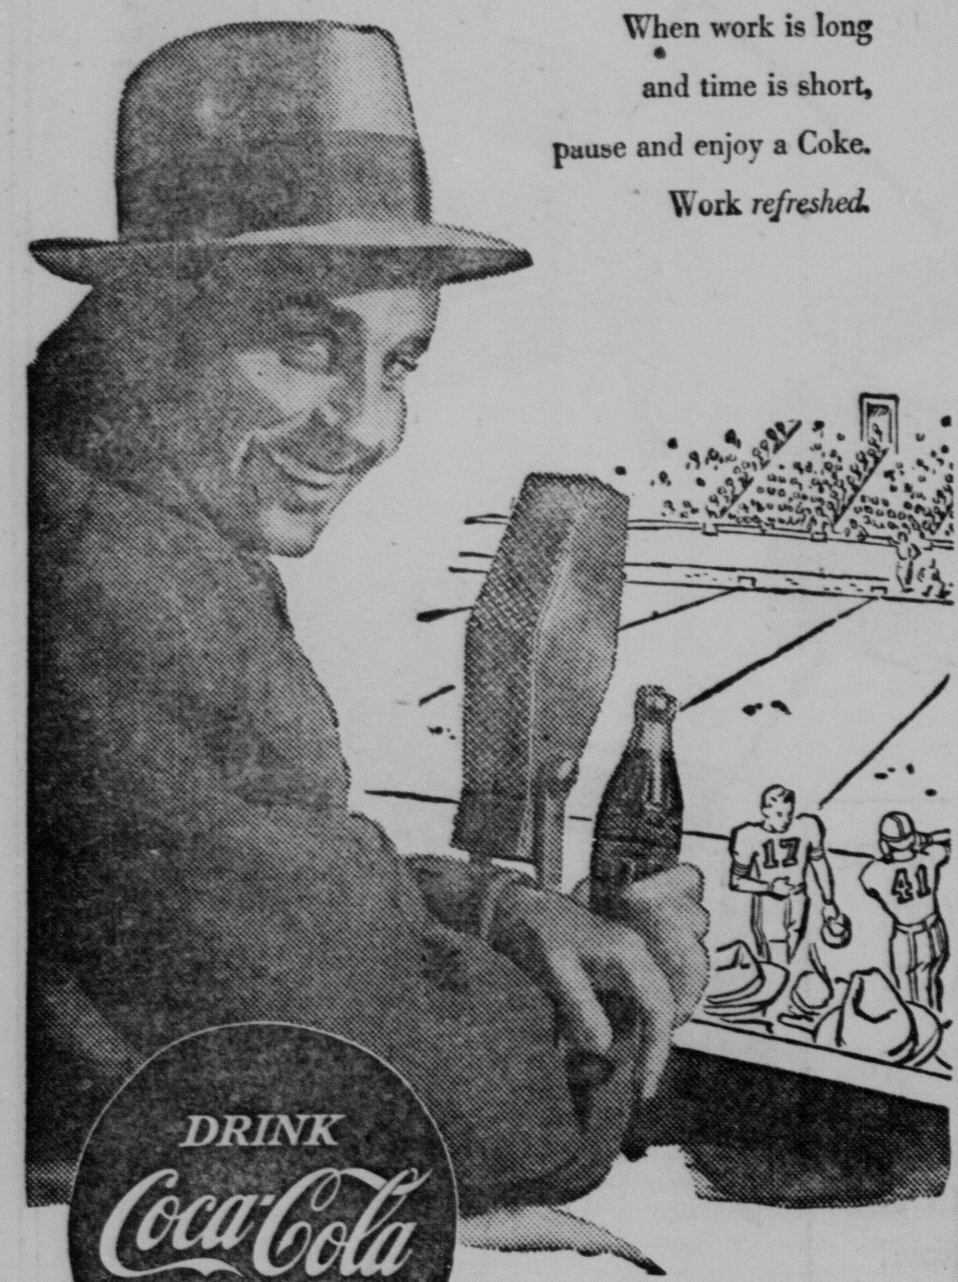

Mrs. England didn't recall how her car skidded off the wet highway and tumbled into the rocky creek bed of Topanga Canyon.

Health To You

Meaning Of Medical Ethics Code

Few things are so generally misunderstood as medical ethics. Most people who think about this at all have some vague idea that medical ethics is a set of rules established be the medical profession to protect the doctors and confuse the public. Actually, medical ethics is a code of behavior which physicians have developed themselves to improve their dealings with their patients and with other doctors. The origin of this code lies in the famous Oath of Hippocrates which I wish I could quote in full.

However, contrary to what many people believe, the code of ethics has been modified repeatedly because of changing conditions of society.

The opening section of the present code of ethics states: "A profession has for its prime object the service it can render to humanity; reward or financial gain should be a subordinate consideration. The practice of medicine is a profession. In choosing this profession an individual assumes an obligation to conduct himself in accord with its ideals."

A few points about "ethics" are particularly bothersome to patients. One of these arises when a patient or a patient's family wishes to change physicians.

Such a change is at all times the privilege of the patient; the only thing that the patient or the family need to do in order to make a change during the course of an illness is to notify the physician in charge that another physician is to be called in his place.

It should be obvious that if this is not done a great deal of confusion and bad feeling is likely to arise.

A second thing which seems to bother many people is the question of consultation. The code of ethics states that: "In serious illness, especially in doubtful or difficult conditions, the physician should request consultations." This is clear enough, and the patient, too, can ask the attending physician for a consultation by another physician.

A final point which comes up occasionally, and which this column has been asked, is whether there is any way by which a patient who feels he has not been properly treated, has been overcharged, or is otherwise dissatisfied, can ask for review of the conduct of the physician.

In a large number of places this is now possible since a goodly number of county and state medical societies have set up committees to hear complaints of this sort. Such committees have accomplished a great deal of good, and I am glad to say that most of them have not had too much to do.

Since physicians, like patients, are human beings, and since the human body is a complicated organism, there will always be some unfortunate experiences with medical care and more misunderstandings.

However, it seems beyond question that the principles of medical ethics have been enormously helpful to the public welfare and that this code has greatly improved the relationship between the medical profession and the public.

Britain To Pull Last Troops From Bermuda

LONDON (AP)—The British start pulling the last of their garrison troops out of the vacation isle of Bermuda—a crown colony—this month.

A statement issued last night said: "The War Office announces with regret that in the present circumstances they are obliged to withdraw the British garrison, consisting of 154 officers and men, from Bermuda. Withdrawal will start this month and will be completed by May 1, 1953."

No reason for the action was given. But Britain's straitened economic circumstances and the presence of sizable U. S. air and naval bases on the island appeared to be major factors.

MacArthur Suggested For Ike's Trip Aid

BRUNSWICK, Md. (AP)—A retired Army officer has suggested that President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower invite Gen. Douglas MacArthur to accompany him on his inspection trip to Korea.

Brig. Gen. D. John Markey said at an Armistice Day observance yesterday that "many of us believe that if Gen. MacArthur had remained in control, our condition today in Korea would be immeasurably improved."

Italy's Highway No. 6

By HAL BOYLE

ROME (AP)—Everybody dreams of a famous street he would like to walk or a hotel he would like to sleep in—from Broadway in New York to the Raffles in Singapore, home of the gin sling.

In wartime there was a period when nobody thought of a hotel, but there was a frustrating highway that was the goal of an army.

It was Highway No. 6, a pleasantly meandering macadam road-way between Naples and Rome.

Mark Clark was trying by brute strength to bust along it from the pleasant vale of sin, Napoli—called by Mussolini "the sewer of Italy"—to Rome, where Il Duce and the Pope lived as uneasy neighbors.

Like any roadway an army needs in wartime, Highway 6 was bordered by hills. We didn't name them then, as they sometimes do in Korea now, after the bosoms of movie stars.

The army hadn't taken so many hills in those far away simple days that every bump it traversed on the landscape received a special renown. No one was sophisticated enough to christen all the spines in the Apennines.

As a matter of fact, if the troops of "the forgotten Fifth Army" knew how many hills they would actually have to assault after landing at Salerno in the fall of 1943, they probably would have tossed coins with the Germans for the whole Italian Peninsula. And probably both sides would have accepted the decision on a "heads you lose, tails I win" basis.

A few peaks along that highway, of course, will always remain memorable. Such as "Million Dollar Hill," named wryly by Doughboys by their estimate of the artillery cost of a single bombardment. And Cairo, that towering crag of death. And Mount Cassino, the German bulwark topped by an ancient abbey whose bombing led Berlin to assail pilots from Keokuk and Cambridge as savages, although they also were—some of them—American Catholics, who knew what they were bombing and why.

I remember the day two sailors tried serenely to drive from Salerno to Rome along Highway 6—and had to be rescued from their shot up vehicle by a disgusted infantry patrol. In those days the Germans were discouraging patrols by planting plastic mines that, if stepped on, would blow a man's leg off below the knee. If a fellow tripped on one, and fell on another with his hands or face, it was rather worse.

The Germans also sat in rock-covered steel pill boxes from which they could rake Highway 6. This was true both at Cassino and in the flank posts guarding the push from Anzio. The continuous death of stalemate lasted for weeks.

That stalemate never was broken until after I left Italy, returned home, and later went into Normandy.

All during the war—and the years since—I wondered what it would be like to drive along Highway 6 from Salerno through Naples into Rome. I had heard there was a great Allied cemetery at Anzio, that the town and abbey of Cassino were rebuilt, and the road lay smooth again.

As our plane landed in Rome, my wife, Frances, who can't tell a map of San Francisco from a drawing of a dinosaur, said: "Now be sure to show me where you were in the war."

But our time was so short I had to decide whether to drive down that lonely Highway 6, where lonely thousands perished, or show her something fresh and new to both of us in exactly the opposite direction—Venice.

And so we saw Venice. I guess I'll always be a coward.

Let others speed in comfort and safety on Highway 6 between Naples and Rome. So many I knew in wartime died to make it free. Why should I finish the journey now that they can never make? It is enough that others can, worrying mildly about how much gasoline it takes rather than how much blood it cost so terribly few remembered years ago.

The name "Bossy" was given to cows from their generic name of "Bos." Cattle, buffalo and bison are all near-relatives, and come under this classification.

NUMBER ONE item on most anyone's list of automobile "musts" is power—the life and lift of your going.

In this Buick SPECIAL you get a valve-in-head high-compression Fireball 8 engine that can pour out a wealth of the thrilling power you ever held rein on—more power per dollar than you'll find elsewhere.

Number Two is ride—the way you go—the comfort and steadiness and luxury of your travel.

Every Buick has big soft coil springs on each wheel to cushion your way—and an unyielding torque-tube that firms and steadies your ride. Yet these are just two of the fifteen Buick ride features that cost, literally, more than a million dollars to engineer.

Then there's style, there's room, there's visibility, there's handling ease—all part of your travel—all helping to make the difference between good going and great going.

But price is very much part of the picture, too—what you pay for what you get.

So when you add in the big horsepower rating you get in a Buick, plus the extra thrill and thrift of its Fireball performance...

When you measure the inches of room, count up the many hours of comfort through the years, check off things like durability and solid satisfaction and high trade-in value...

And when you put this total against the price of a Buick—you're going to say, "Man! That's great going all the way!"

Come in and see us today or tomorrow, won't you?

Miss Shirley Ann Miller Wed Sunday To Frank Surmaceviz

Miss Shirley Ann Miller was an attractive bride for her wedding Sunday to Frank Bernard Surmaceviz. The marriage of the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Miller of E. Fourth St. and the son of Mrs. Steffie Surmaceviz of Sallineville and the late Walter Surmaceviz took place in the sanctuary of Holy Trinity Lutheran Church at 7:30 o'clock.

Candles in seven branch candelabra lighted the altar setting where palms and white mums added beauty. The couple pledged their vows and exchanged rings in the ceremony conducted by Rev. G. D. Keister, church pastor.

Mr. Miller escorted his daughter to the altar.

Miss Ruth Hoch, church organist, played the traditional nuptial music to herald the bridal party and included "The Lord's Prayer" and "I Love You Truly" in her recital.

Complementing the bride's blue dress suit was a pearl choker and pearl and rhinestone earrings, gifts of the groom. Her accessories were pink and black and her bouquet contained pink roses and white daisies.

Miss Shirley McMillan was maid of honor in a dress of rose taffeta with powder blue accessories. In contrast was her bouquet of red roses and white mums.

Donald I. Miller, brother of the bride, was best man. Ushers were Paul Jakubowski and Joe Gryzmalla.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Miller wore a purple dress with a yellow rose corsage. Mrs. Surmaceviz chose an aqua dress with black accessories, and yellow roses also comprised her corsage.

The newlyweds greeted 150 friends and relatives at the reception in the Miller home following the wedding. Guests came from Salem, Leetonia, Sallineville, Franklin Square and Chester, W. Va.

Lace covered the refreshment table which was centered with a beautiful three-tiered wedding cake topped with a bride and groom in miniature.

Serving at the reception were Mrs. Clyde Miller, Mrs. Donald Hayes, Mrs. Earl Miller and Mrs. Harold Green, all aunts of the bride.

Mrs. Surmaceviz graduated from Salem High School and her husband attended school in Wellsville. He is an employee of the Gardner Bakery at Chester, W. Va. Dec. 1, he will leave for military service.

Following a brief honeymoon trip the couple will be at home to friends at 893 E. Fourth St. For traveling the bride wore a pink rose corsage with her wedding suit.

Miss Elliott Is Wed To Charles Ivan

The sanctuary of the First Baptist Church was the scene of the wedding of Florence Marie Elliott and Charles Allen Ivan Sunday at 2 o'clock. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Mary Elliott of S. Lundy St. and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Ivan of Guilford Lake.

Tapers in candelabra lighted the altar setting enhanced with palms and vases of white flowers. Officiating in the double ring ceremony was Rev. R. J. Hunter, church pastor. An uncle of the bride, Arnold Popa, gave her in marriage.

Nuptial melodies were played in prelude by Mrs. Robert Hammell, church organist.

During the ceremony she played "The Lord's Prayer" and "With This Ring I Thee Wed."

Complementing the bride's white organdy and lace gown was a gold cross, the groom's gift, which she wore on a gold chain about her neck. Her organdy gown was designed with a little cape over strapless bodice and the skirt was fully fashioned. Added emphasis was given the skirt by wide lace trimming. Pink roses left accent to her bouquet of white roses.

Also gowned in white was Miss Virginia Popa, maid of honor. With her white formal gown of net she wore a headband of yellow net. Her corsage also was of yellow flowers, and she wore the necklace given her by the bride.

Ernest Sweteye was best man. Ushers were George Cerbu, uncle of the bride and Edward Kupka. Mr. Ivan presented his attendants gifts.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Elliott chose a dress of powder blue crepe, trimmed with blue and pink lace. Her roses were yellow and red. Mrs. Ivan wore a sheer dress of black and pink with a corsage of red and white roses.

In the recreation room of St. John Romanian Church on S. Lundy Ave. the newlyweds greeted more than 145 guests at the reception which followed the wedding. The wedding cake was beautifully decorated with pink roses and a bridal ornament.

Mr. Ivan graduated from Salem High School and his wife attended there. He is an employee of the Eljer Co. They will make their home at 450 Aetna. A delayed honeymoon trip is planned for next summer.

INSTITUTE DINNER TUESDAY

Brighten The Winter Days With Potted Bulbs

By HENRY PREE

Everyone who loves plants should pot a few bulbs for indoor blooming during the winter, or grow a few paper-white narcissus to live the dull snowy months.

When bulbs are potted up, it is important to put a few pieces of broken pots in the bottom for drainage with a little moss over them and two or three pieces of charcoal embedded in the moss.

The pots can then be filled to within a third of the top. A good potting soil from the nearest seedman or florist may be used, or you can make up your own from rich garden loam and one part of sand. Hyacinths and daffodils should be planted so that the nose just protrudes when the pot has been filled to within a half inch of the top. Other kinds should be entirely covered, the tops being just below the surface.

BULBS MUST be stored away in a dark place until roots are made. Usually it is easiest to place them in a cool cellar. But you can use a cold frame or an insulated trench.

The pots should be given a

POT BULBS for indoor growth to add a cheerful note to your home during dull winter months.

thorough soaking before being stored away.

The time required for the making of roots depends upon the character of the bulbs. The following table may be used as a guide:

Paper white narcissus	4 weeks
Roman hyacinths	8 weeks
Tulips	10 weeks
Daffodils, jonquils and narcissi	10 weeks
Crocus	8 weeks
Snowdrops	6 weeks

Scilla 6 weeks

When you can find a heavy growth of roots, the bulbs may be forced.

Forcing is best started in a temperature of about 50, without any direct sunlight. The temperature can be increased gradually. It is important to avoid drafts and the bulbs must not be set too close to a radiator.

Crocuses can be grown in pebbles and water about as easy as paper-white narcissus. Complaints are often made that bulbs forced in pebbles and water decay. This trouble usually arises because the bulbs are placed too deeply in the water. The water should just touch the base of the bulbs.

Not infrequently it happens that bulbs begin to flower too low in the stem, and are almost hidden by the leaves as they develop. This difficulty can usually be overcome by making a cone of stiff paper and placing it over the plant.

When this is done, the stem soon begins to grow rapidly until the flower reaches the normal position. Bulbs should be purchased now and potted at once for bloom after the first of the year.

to get up on a stepladder and press the bulge with your hand, or with a broomstick. Movement of the plaster under such pressure is a sign that it has broken away from the lath and a danger signal that it may fall. In such cases the old plaster has to be cut away and new plaster applied with good bonding to the lath.

The main cause of such ceiling failures is moisture. Plaster which has been properly pushed through lath openings, with excess gobs forming anchors, dries to be virtually a reversion to gypsum rock and should last indefinitely. But plaster that is continually dampened will soften and lose its grip.

ONE THING to remember in applying plaster is that it does not bind to the lath itself or to any other wood. It holds merely because of the spaces or openings in the lathing, through which the plasterer forces the material to form hardened anchors.

Because of this, plaster binds more firmly to metal lath than to wood by virtue of the greater number of openings through which it can ooze when applied. Gypsum lath, plasterboard and insulating board offer bonds not only by the holes in such materials, but also because their open textures allow the plaster to penetrate and harden in the pores.

Metal lath involves more work to install. It provides an excellent base, but usually calls for three-quarters of an inch of plaster. Gypsum lath needs only a half inch of plaster and adds to fire protection by its own high fire rating. Fiber insulating lath also provides a semi-rigid base and is still cheaper, but lacks the fire rating of gypsum lath.

Of course, under most building codes, fire resistance is not so important aside from adjoining garage walls and sometimes the kitchen. But lath requiring only a half inch of plaster allows for a two-coat job, while metal lath takes three coats.

THE IMPORTANCE of firmly nailed lath in any plaster job cannot be over-emphasized. It is the foundation for the base coat of plaster, which is the most important part of a plastered wall. The base coat fills to the thickness needed to square the room. It is the plaster that always should be

Cutting Home Heating Costs

Home owners are already experiencing the first shivers of the new heating season and are primarily concerned with getting the most out of their heating dollars this winter.

One U.S. heating fuel producer lists 17 valuable tips for cutting your fuel bills. Not one of the following steps involves spending any money.

1. Close house doors promptly to keep all heat inside.
2. Keep temperature moderate enough so windows won't have to be opened.
3. Turn off heat in rooms being ventilated.
4. Turn off heat and close doors of rooms not in use.
5. Close fireplace dampers when not in use. If dampers are missing and fireplace isn't in use, close chimney opening.

6. Lower the thermostat setting at night. Setting it back 10 degrees for eight hours may save 10 per cent or more, depending on the fuel used.

7. Lower the thermostat setting to 55 degrees when going away for a day or longer.

8. Check radiator enclosures to be sure they are not trapping heat.

9. Remove rugs and furniture from places where they block radiators or registers.

10. Check steam radiator valves for proper function. Drain air or water, if present, from steam radiators to allow them to heat up fully.

11. If your garage is heated, keep doors closed and temperature low.

12. Keep water in heating boiler clean for faster, more efficient operation.

13. Watch steam-boiler water level. A boiler usually operates best if level is at center of gauge.

14. Avoid overheating the furnace. If wastes fuel.

15. Drain a pail of water to take sediment from bottom of domestic hot water tank monthly to insure efficiency.

16. Check and repair leaky hot water faucets. (A leak of only one drop per second means a loss of

Weather Stripping Reduces Fuel Bills

SUCH MEASURES as attic floor insulation and weather stripping save considerably on heating fuel for budget-conscious home owners.

700 gallons a year.)

17. Clean soot out of boiler. A mere one-eighth-inch soot deposit increases fuel consumption as much as ten per cent.

There are additional steps to be taken that call for the outlay of money, but are well worth the expense.

For instance, a home owner should insulate his attic floor, or, if that is not possible, the roof. Attic floor insulation may save up to 20 per cent of fuel.

See that hot water or steam pipes or warm air ducts are well insulated if they are located near outside walls. Also, storm windows, storm doors and weather stripping can save 10 to 20 per cent.

Have the furnace draft control checked to keep too much heat from escaping up the chimney. Stop air leaks around the furnace with asbestos cement.

See that radiators or heating ducts are in balance. Avoid too much heat here, too little there.

on the compost pile and as a mulch about trees and shrubs where soil is cultivated.

The leaves will decay during the winter and can be dug in next spring to build up humus content of the soil. Leaves should not be used to mulch flower beds. Straw or similar light litter is a much better protection because it will permit air and moisture to penetrate the beds.

Several inquiries concern the old habit of spreading manure over the lawn as a winter mulch. The answer is no. Manure is a splendid fertilizer but should never be used on an established lawn. Its place is in the soil.

Manure on the lawn will improve the soil but will kill much of the grass by smothering and burning. Neither should patches of frozen leaves be permitted to remain during the winter.

If you must burn leaves, choose a spot away from trees and shrubs, as the heat will rise and damage branches. Keep the fire small; a small fire burns faster and is easier to keep under control.

The loss of property and lives resulting from fires is staggering and yet much of it is preventable. It should be the duty of every citizen to report every grass or woods fire to the nearest authority.

THE GARDENER whose house faces the north or whose yard is so situated that it is in shade, is confronted with a serious problem. He wants plants of some sort which will tolerate shade. There are no shade-loving plants, despite many claims to the contrary.

One may find occasionally a plant doing well in the shade, but this is an exception. To give some semblance of planting about the foundation of the shady side of the house we are limited to a few varieties, which, if given much encouragement and ideal soil, will reward us for our efforts.

The only needle-leaved evergreens which tolerate shade are hemlock and Japanese yew. Both must be planted away from the house so that there is plenty of air circulating about them and where the overhang of the roof does not prevent rains from reaching their tops.

The following broad-leaved evergreens are recommended for trial: Carolina rhododendron, hybrid rhododendron, mountain laurel, leucothoe (drooping andromeda), pieris japonica and floribunda, inkberry (ilex glabra), Japanese holly (ilex crenata), and its varieties.

All these plants want a well-drained soil, rich in humus and on the acid side of the scale. Space your plants sufficiently far apart so that one may easily walk about them.

Pachysandra, myrtle (vinca minor), English ivy and evergreen

Quizzing The Gardener

Q—I have a cactus plant. It's the type with the large oval leaves, and has been referred to by friends as a prickly pear. How do I care for it during the winter?

A—Cactus must have a sandy loam soil, a cool, sunny window, a moist atmosphere and just enough water to keep the soil moist. Overwatering and use of a pot without a drainage hole are the common causes for failure. Little fertilizer should be given the soil, but a tablespoon of garden lime should be worked into the soil each spring.

Q—This year our azalea died. One of them is in a hot dry spot at the corner of the house. What evergreen can we plant in this spot? It gets the afternoon sun for about 4 to 5 hours.

A—Azaleas should thrive in a hot dry spot provided the soil is acid and humusy. So make a mixture of equal parts good garden loam, old manure, and peat moss. Add a pound or two of cottonseed meal to the mixture for each plant. Water well once in four or five days.

Q—What is the better time to prune trees, winter or summer?

A—Pruning may be done at any season of the year. However, late winter and early spring pruning is not recommended for those trees which bleed, such as maples and birches.

Q—Can geraniums now in the garden be continued in bloom in doors throughout the winter?

A—Not unless you have conditions approximating those of a greenhouse. Better take four to six-inch cuttings from the terminal shoots of the best geraniums and dip the base of the cuttings in a root-promoting hormone, and root in constantly moist sand. In six weeks the rooted cuttings should be potted in good soil and kept in your sunniest window.

Kensington

Claudia Sue Allen was honored on her 7th birthday Nov. 4 with a party given by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Allen. Fourteen friends enjoyed games and contests, and lunch served by Mrs. Allen. Claudia received many gifts.

Paul Benson, who underwent surgery at Mercy hospital in Canton Monday, is reported doing well. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Orsburn and sons and Mrs. Ida Orsburn of Hanover visited Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Orsburn of Atwater.

A meeting of the Civic Benefit Fund Association of Hanover and neighboring townships was held Thursday night in the Christian Church, with a good attendance.

The main purpose of the meeting was to introduce Dr. and Mrs. Paul Ringsmith, the new doctor coming to Hanover. After the meeting cookies and coffee, prepared by the ladies of Kensington, were enjoyed.

How To Fix It

Q—How can wallpaper be applied to plaster that is very chalky?

A—Try treating the wall first with a thin coat of fresh shellac. It dries quickly and will allow the wallpaper to be applied on it in the usual way.

Q—What causes sewer odors in basement and utility room?

A—Such odors probably mean that water has evaporated from the traps under the floor drain. Pour at least a gallon of water into the drain to solve the problem.

Browns Whip Cardinals, 28-13, To Deadlock With Giants

Blue Devils Win 7th, 25-13

Boardman Victim Of Big Second Quarter

Lisbon's battling Blue Devils racked up 19 points in the second quarter Saturday afternoon and then coasted to a 25-13 win, their seventh of the season as against a lone loss and a tie, over Boardman at the winners' stadium.

Stellar Left Halfback Jerry Rose, fifth-leading scorer in Columbiana County, tallied 2 TD's for Lisbon, one on a 20-yard pass and the other on a 6-yard run. Left End Dick Bosel and Fullback Sonny Utt each scored a 6-pointer on a 53-yard pass play and a yard plunge, respectively.

Right Halfback Ron Flannery chalked up both of Boardman's touchdowns on runs of 15 and 4 yards.

Boardman lost the ball 10 times and Lisbon about 4 due to fumbles which marred the contest. The "fumblyitis" affliction prevented both teams from scoring in the opening frame.

Quarterback Dean Nicholson, the Blue Devils' passing ace, started things rolling for Lisbon in the second stanza. He chucked an aerial from the Boardman 47 to Bosel on the 35 and the end rambled the rest of the distance to paydirt.

Nicholson's pass to Rose for the extra point was no good.

The lanky quarterback set up the Blue Devils' second TD in the quarter when he heaved a 34-yard pass to Bosel on Boardman's 8. Utt, carrying 3 straight times, smashed over from the 1. Nicholson's pass to Rose for the extra point again was unsuccessful.

Lisbon's third touchdown of the period came on Rose's 6-yard run following his recovery of a fumble on the Boardman 21. A pass interference penalty took the ball to the 15 and Rose carried to the 6 on a statue of liberty play to set up the TD.

Nicholson's placement was perfect and the Blue Devils led at halftime, 19-0.

Another recovery of a fumble in the third quarter led to a Lisbon touchdown. Four plays after the Blue Devils recovered a fumble on the Lisbon 43, Nicholson threw a 20-yard pass to Rose for the TD. Two passes from Nicholson to Rose were the big ground-gainers. Nicholson's placement failed.

In the same period, Boardman's Flannery ran 15 yards for a touchdown, capping a 47-yard drive. Tackle Gary Glassner missed the placement.

Runs of 48 and 4 yards in the fourth period by Flannery promoted Boardman's last touchdown. Glassner's placement was good.

The losers threatened again in the final canto, getting as far as the Lisbon 7, where Center Jack Pike of the Blue Devils intercepted a pass which was recovered by his teammate, Right End Dick Moore, on the Lisbon 4 after Pike fumbled it.

Lisbon got 13 first downs and Boardman 10. The Blue Devils flooded the field with substitutes during the last 2 quarters.

The Blue Devils wind up their season next Friday night when they encounter the Salem Quakers at Reilly Stadium.

Dick Weik To Rejoin Tribe Next Season

CLEVELAND (AP)—Dick Weik, Cleveland Indians' young right-hander plans to rejoin the Tribe next year following two years' Army service.

Weik, who won one game and lost two after coming to the Indians in 1950 from the Washington Senators, was discharged from service Saturday at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo.

New York Beats San Francisco To Knot American, National Conferences; Lions Triumph

CLEVELAND (AP)—In 1950, when both conference races in the National Football League wound up in dead heats — causing an unprecedented double playoff — pro grid fans, somewhat bewildered by it all, were heard to say:

"Well, that's something which won't happen again for a long time."

That may be so, but here it is, just two years later, and we have a similar down-to-the-wire-and-beyond-it situation in prospect.

The San Francisco blitz has fizzled; the Detroit Lions are roaring, and the New York Giants and Cleveland Browns keep rocking along, playing none-to-brilliant, but winning football.

As a result, both conference races today are locked in two-way ties for first place with five weeks of the season left to go. And to make it even closer each team has a 5-2 record.

Detroit tied San Francisco for the National Conference lead Sunday by whipping Pittsburgh, 31-6, while the 49ers fell before the charged-up New Yorkers, 23-14.

The Giants' upset victory kept them in a tie with Cleveland for the American Conference lead, the Browns having defeated the Chicago Cardinals, 28-13, as Marion Motley ran wild.

In other games, the Green Bay Packers upset the Chicago Bears, 41-28; Los Angeles handed winless Dallas its seventh straight defeat, 27-6, and Philadelphia crushed Washington, 38-20.

If you go by the remaining schedules, Detroit and the Giants rate an edge in their conference races.

The Lions face Dallas and the Bears—both second division teams—twice each and Green Bay once. San Francisco, on the other hand, meets Los Angeles twice, Washington, Pittsburgh and Green Bay.

The Giants' edge, if any, lies in the fact the season's finale against the Browns—the one which may decide the conference champion—will be played on the New Yorkers' home field.

Otto Graham, pin-pointing receivers better than at any time in four years, Sunday completed 18 of 24 passes for 249 yards and a pair of touchdowns. One scoring pass, to end Mac Speedie, was good for 43 yards.

Motley, galloping like a runaway firehorse, bowled over at least five tacklers while working a screen pass for 52 yards and a six-pointer.

The huge fullback also cracked loose on his favorite trap play for a 59-yard jaunt that set up the last Cleveland trip to the end zone. Although Graham and Motley provided most of the fireworks, Coach Paul Brown heaped credit on two men who returned to play after riding the bench for most of six tilts because of injuries—halfback Ken Carpenter and end Dante Lavelli. Their work kept the Chicago defense from gaining up on the rest of the intricate Brown offense.

Carpenter crossed the goal twice—once on a four-yard jaunt after catching a flip-out and the other time on a three-yarder around end.

Brown explained Graham's masterful performance by saying it was "the human element. He had it, that's all. One day you have it, the next day you don't. Like in baseball. A pitcher can't throw a shutout every time he walks out there."

Of Motley, Brown said: "Let

Marion get a load of steam and... swish—off he goes."

Graham credited it all to "smart football."

Both Chicago touchdowns resulted from fumbles. The Cards fell on Carpenter's bobble on the Cleveland 12 in the first period and a short time later Charley Trippi went two yards for the tally.

The Cards later went 71 yards from their own 13 on one play which included two fumbles. Ollie Matson ran 10 and fumbled to Jerry Groom. Groom, hit by a Brown tackler, let the ball squirt upfield to Bill Fischer, a 250-pound Card guard who hauled down on the Brown 16. Matson ran the remaining 16 on the next play.

Motley blocked Joe Geri's first attempt to convert. Lou Groza booted all four Brown extra points—running his record to 91 without a miss.

Mississippi State Lad Leads Scoring

NEW YORK (AP)—Jack Parker of Mississippi State has forged to the front of collegiate football's individual scoring parade today with 97 points.

The 20-year-old junior quarterback, who has scored 13 touchdowns and has kicked 19 extra points, had a field day Saturday against Auburn. Parker tallied three touchdowns, passed for three others, set up a seventh score and booted six conversions in his team's 49-34 victory.

He is one point away from the Southeastern Conference season scoring record of 98 points set by Steve Van Buren of Louisiana State in 1943.

Al Conway of William Jewell (Mo.) and Jules de Rouen of McNeese (La) State are tied for second place among the scoring leaders with 96 points each.

Named Head Of League

AKRON, O. (AP)—Lincoln Hackim Sunday night was named head of the newly-organized Northwestern Ohio Inter-City Amateur Basketball League.

Representatives of clubs in Ashland, Massillon, Akron, Cleveland and Canton attended the session.

Goshen Union Ties For Title

Share County Crown With Canfield Eleven

Goshen Union, who suffered its only loss of the season in the opening contest against McDonald, closed the 1952 campaign Saturday afternoon with a 14-14 deadlock against the Canfield Cardinals to share the Mahoning County Class B championship, each with county records of 5-0-1.

The Unions fell behind in the first period when Canfield's Dave Funk tossed an aerial to Fred Meyerhoefer which covered 43 yards for the TD but it wasn't long until the Goshen eleven tied the score and went ahead by seven points.

Carson McNeely and Myron Stallsmith combined early in the second quarter to knot the score on a 16-yard pass play. Roger Stille converted to make it 7-all and then Stille breezed across from six yards out minutes later to push the Unions ahead, 13-7. His placement was perfect and the Goshen Union team led, 14-7.

Behind by seven points as the third quarter got underway, Canfield again tallied with Funk and Meyerhoefer combining for seven points to make the score, 14-all. Ken West booted both the extra points for the Cardinals.

Goshen Union brought to a close a very successful season having a 6-1-1 record under the guidance of William Van Brocklin, former Canfield gridders himself. Canfield shared the title with Poland last season and retained their part of the crown, this season with the Goshen outfit.

Eight points in the game was not enough to win the county scoring championship for Stille as the Union star was edged by Ed Baldwin, McDonald halfback. Stille scored 119 points for the season while Baldwin totaled 123 markers when he scored three touchdowns in McDonald's final contest.

Ten Cardinals Suffer Injuries Against Browns

CHICAGO (AP)—Chicago Cardinal officials said today 10 Card players were injured Sunday in the 28-13 loss at Cleveland to the Browns. Eight of the injured will receive X-rays today to determine how seriously they're hurt, the club announced.

Ohio College Teams Slated For 19 Games This Weekend

By FRITZ HOWELL
COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—Ohio's college gridders have their last big splurge on tap this weekend, a 19-game slate which will leave only eight of the 36 squads with future engagements.

Six teams wound up their schedules Saturday as Ohio Northern just about clinched the Mid-Ohio League laurels by handing Findlay's Oilers their first defeat, and Heidelberg's Student Princes practically wrapped up the Ohio Conference title.

Ohio Wesleyan fixed it for the Princes by knocking Muskingum out of a top-spot tie, 36-14. The Mid-American championship rests on the Turkey Day game between Cincinnati and Miami, both unbeaten in the loop. Miami paces the state-wide race with seven straight, only unbeaten record.

Ohio State, which stubbed its toe against underdog Pittsburgh, 14-21, Saturday, has rugged Illinois coming up this week on the foreign grid. The Illini, coming strong after a poor start, defeated Iowa 33-13 Saturday after whipping Michigan the week before.

Heidelberg needs only to win over Akron this week to clinch the Ohio Conference title, while Ohio Northern faces non-victorious Ashland in its bid for a clean slate in the Mid-Ohio.

The Saturday schedule:
Western Conference: Ohio State at Illinois.
Mid-American Conference: Ohio U. at Bowling Green.
Ohio Conference: Heidelberg Akron (night), Muskingum at Otterbein, Wooster at Oberlin, Ohio Wesleyan at Wittenberg.
Mid-Ohio League: Ashland at Ohio Northern, Cedarville at Defiance (night.)

Oliver Reigns Again As Top County Scorer

As Columbiana County football teams enter their last week of the season, Fullback Eddie Oliver of the powerful Potters of East Liverpool still leads the pack in scoring.

Oliver, who has 111 points to date, is just 2 ahead of Leetonia Fullback Joe Guido, who wound up with 109. Leetonia finished its season Friday night.

East Palestine's Tony Conkle still has a chance to catch Oliver, who has led county scorers ever since the second game of the season. Conkle presently has 98 points.

Potter Quarterback Clair Williams moved into fourth position by virtue of his 78-point total, 4 in front of Left Halfback Jerry Rose of Lisbon, who nailed down fifth with 74.

Columbiana Halfback Fred Forney, who was tied for fifth last week, dropped to sixth. He rounded out the season with 66 points. Columbiana also ended its season Friday.

Oliver has made 33 out of 44 placement attempts. Closest to him are Guido with 19 and End Bob Foster of Wellsville with 14.

The Potters, ranked third in the state, rate as the best team both offensively and defensively in the county. They have scored 331 points and have yielded 79.

Second best on offense is East Palestine with 240. Other teams' scoring is: Leetonia 214; Wellsville 176; Lisbon 150; Salem 147; and Columbiana 139.

Lisbon is second defensively with 85. Others are: East Palestine 98; Leetonia 115; Columbiana 142; Wellsville 146; and Salem 236.

East Liverpool also has the best record so far—8-0-1. Leetonia is second with an 8-1 mark. Others are: Lisbon 7-1-1; East Palestine 7-2-0; Wellsville 4-5; Columbiana 4-5; and Salem 3-6.

13-13 tie with Sandusky is the only blot on East Liverpool's record. Class B, Leetonia, who played 5 Class A schools during its season, lost its first game, 26-7, to East Palestine, a Class A club.

A 6-6 tie with Poland and a 14-7 loss to Leetonia are the only blemishes on Lisbon's record.

Columbiana clinched second place in the Inter-County League with a 4-1 loop mark. East Palestine must beat Poland Friday night to tie Leetonia for the Tri-County League championship.

A total of 43 players handled 33 pass completions in the University of Mississippi's first five football games.

Unbeaten College Grid Elevens Number 23

NEW YORK (AP)—The list of unbeaten and untied college football teams stands at 23 today, including Georgia Tech, Michigan State, U. C. L. A., Southern California and Maryland.

Topping the nation's all-winning elevens is little Peru Teachers of Nebraska with nine straight.

Six colleges slipped from the elite group over the weekend. They were Alfred (N.Y.), Lawrence (Wis.), Ricks (Idaho), Findlay (O.), Northern State (SD) and Montclair (NJ).

THE PUREST WATER IS USED IN KOEHLER'S

INSTALLATION of two Permutit Water Conditioning Units by KOEHLER'S is just another step in the constant modernization program of The Erie Brewing Co. These units (each with a capacity of 155 gallons per minute) will filter the water used in brewing KOEHLER'S and make it completely palatable and free of any off tastes or odors. If any traces of chlorine or phenol are present, they will be removed.

While methods heretofore used have been satisfactory, it was felt by brewery officials that none but the most modern methods should be used in the brewing of the "Three fine brews," hence the equipment of the Permutit Co., (long known as a leader in the field) was selected.

This forward step in brewing KOEHLER'S is just another of the many modernization ideas and plans which have been made, and will continue to be made, by the brewery so that when you ask for KOEHLER'S you may indeed know that "There is no better BEER!"—anywhere, at any price.

Conference Titles Remain Unsettled

By ED CORRIGAN

NEW YORK (AP)—The seers were making hasty revisions in their football prognostications today after Saturday's tidal wave of upsets, and to say that they still are reeling from the reversals would be putting it mildly.

Conference championships, which should be about settled, still can go any way, and, more important, the sponsors of the big New Year's Day bowl games are gulping aspirin and hoping things follow the form that marked the first half of the season.

The demise of Oklahoma and Villanova, two of the rapidly diminishing list of unbeaten, were the big upsets. But Kansas, Penn State, Duke and Ohio State, all among the mighty of the land, fell. And Purdue and Mississippi didn't add any prestige to their records. The Boilermakers could do no more than tie Minnesota, 14-14, and Ole Miss squeaked through to a 6-0 decision over Houston.

Only the big three — Michigan, State, Maryland and Georgia Tech

—have been holding up. Maryland was idle Saturday, but the Spartans rolled over Indiana, 41-14, and the Engineers clubbed Army, 45-6.

This week, though, they all face tough assignments, possibly their most rugged of the campaign. Biggie Munn's Staters must entertain Notre Dame, the team that polished off feared Oklahoma, 27-21, last week. That it is too much to expect the Irish to pull off two surprises in a row goes without saying, but this is a team that is capable of giving the country's No. 1 outfit an unpleasant afternoon if it is keyed up.

Maryland meets Mississippi in a battle of unbeaten. Mississippi has been tied twice and came mighty close in its triumph over Houston. But this, too, is a "hungry" team—meaning it is hoping for a bowl bid. Maryland, barred from a post-season game unless the Southern Conference approves, naturally will rule the heavy favorite.

Georgia Tech, already tapped for the Sugar Bowl, will go for its ninth straight triumph when it tangles with Alabama at Atlanta. The Crimson Tide has projected itself into a bowl possibility with its 7-1 record, and has been getting better as the season progresses.

On the Pacific Coast, where the Rose Bowl nomination stands as the lure of the winner, the big game is two weeks hence when Southern California and UCLA meet — if Southern Cal gets by Washington this Saturday.

While everyone has been talking Southern Cal and UCLA, the Huskies have entered the picture and judging by their 22-7 triumph over California Saturday, they are to be looked upon with cautious eyes. UCLA whipped them earlier, but they've been coming fast.

If, by chance, Washington does best Southern Cal and the Trojans rebound to beat UCLA, the conference title would end in a three-way tie, and a vote of the conference members would be taken to determine the winner.

Purdue's tie by Minnesota hurt the Boilermakers, who are hoping to win their first Big Ten title in many a moon, but it should not be a catastrophe. However, St. Louis' comb's lads must go against Michigan this week. The Wolverines were the early favorites in the shifting Big Ten race until Purdue took over. This one will be a tossup and the result very possibly could settle the championships.

In the Southwest Conference, the choice still is Texas to act as host team in the Cotton Bowl, but the Longhorns have a tougher in Texas as Christian this week. The big game in the Ivy League sends front-running Yale against Princeton, the defending champion, while in the Big Seven Oklahoma figures to get back in the winning column against Missouri.

Pitt Shapes Up As Prospect For Bowl Game

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—"We've got Georgia Tech, but who are we going to get to play the Engineers?"

That's a $135,000 question. The Sugar Bowl was nervously asking itself today after three top prospects for the New Year's Day football classic were smashed in Saturday upsets.

Oklahoma was whipped by Notre Dame 27-21, Penn State was toppled by Syracuse 27-7, and Villanova was crushed by Tulsa 42-6. The Engineers won their eighth straight game this season Saturday, their 22nd without a loss, by thumping Army 45-6.

Your guess is as good as the Sugar Bowl officials on where they will turn next to find an eleven to meet Tech.

"Frankly, we don't know," said a Sugar Bowl source. "It's rough picking this time."

Shrinking rapidly is the list of potential teams and the pressure to make a choice is becoming increasingly greater with the Orange and Cotton Bowls in the bidding ring.

Speaking of bowls, don't be surprised to see the big post-season game operators start making tracks toward Pittsburgh. The over-looked Pittsburgh Panthers suddenly have blossomed into prime bowl material.

Here's a team which has whipped Notre Dame and Army on successive week-ends and beaten three members of the Big Ten—Iowa, Indiana and Ohio State.

Pitt, 21-4 winner over Ohio State Saturday, has lost two decisions—a 49-20 bow to Oklahoma and a 16-0 surprise at the hands of West Virginia.

But the Panthers, who have no bowl bars, should have a gaudy string of victories. Remaining games are with North Carolina State and Penn State.

Alabama halfback Bobby Marlowe has gained more than a mile rushing in a little more than two seasons with the Crimson Tide.

The Brooklyn Dodgers held undisputed possession of first place in the National League race from June 1st until the end of the season.

ber of the Social Democrat Labor party (Mapai), he is a possible successor to the presidency.

Also mentioned as a possible nominee, when the Knesset meets within 30 days to pick a president, is Felix Rosen, former minister of justice.

Official bulletins said Weizmann suffered a severe heart attack at 1:30 a.m. yesterday and then another at 4:30 a.m. He died less than two hours later.

Weizmann had been out of bed only a few times and had received only close relatives since he became seriously ill about the time he was re-elected president of Israel in November, 1951. He had become nearly blind before then but had carried on with his work.

In broadcasts today of America's tribute, the people of Israel heard President Truman's statement that "mankind has lost an able leader."

Truman said Weizmann's "devotion to the establishment of a homeland for Jewish people, both before its realization and as the head of the new government, has brought him the respect and gratitude of millions. He was a man of wisdom and I was honored to know him."

Britain's Queen Elizabeth messaged her "deep regret," and Prime Minister Churchill said, "The world has lost a distinguished citizen and Israel a faithful son."

the interim assignment the general gave him underscored the likelihood of a major post later.

Eisenhower associates who asked not to be named said there are strong indications Dodge will be named director of the budget—and that the job will take on more importance from a policy-making standpoint than under the Democrats.

Both Dodge and Dodge will serve as liaison men until Jan. 20, inauguration day.

A significant feature of yesterday's conference at Eisenhower's vacation retreat at the Augusta National Golf Club was the presence of Sen. Eugene Millikin of Colorado, who supported Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio for the GOP presidential nomination.

Millikin was on hand in two of the official capacities—as chairman of the Conference of All Republican Senators, and as incoming chairman of the tax-writing Senate Finance Committee.

But perhaps even more important was his background of having backed Taft against Eisenhower in the pre-convention days. His attendance recalled that Taft, after meeting with Eisenhower in New York last August, indicated he had received assurances from the general that Taft people would be consulted when it came time for appointments in a new administration.

The Colorado senator has been mentioned as a possible choice for secretary of the Treasury, but he said here over the weekend he doesn't want the job.

Others who met with Eisenhower were retired Gen. Lucius D. Clay, former military governor of Germany and now chairman of the board of Continental Can Corp., Herbert Brownell Jr., who managed New York Gov. Thomas E. Dewey's presidential campaign in 1948 and who played a major behind-the-scenes role in Eisenhower's campaign; Clifford Roberts, New York investment banker who has been playing golf with the general; James C. Hagerty, Eisenhower's press secretary, and Thomas Stephens, his appointment secretary.

dent. Other members were Henry Walborn and Stuart Johnston, clerk. The first bond issue was passed Nov. 6, 1945, in the amount of $190,180.00.

On Feb. 12, 1947, a little over 10 acres of land were purchased from Mrs. Olive Gobel, to be used as a building site. A second bond issue in the amount of $120,000.00 was passed Nov. 7, 1950. The present board members were serving at this time. On April 1, 1950, one acre of land was purchased at a cost of $500.00 from Earl and Anna Reese for sewage disposal purposes.

In October 1950, the ground was broken. On Sept. 2, 1952, school was opened in the new building with 562 students registered.

There are 15 classrooms, cafeteria and first aid room. Adjoining the supervisor's office, there is a conference room in which an intercommunication system is installed. The first aid room is also used as a "Well Child Clinic" which is sponsored by the Parent-Teacher Association in cooperation with the health department. Murray held concurrently with the presidency of the parent CIO.

There, he spoke with energy of labor's gains, promised "wholehearted support to any administration that has in mind constructive measures for the common people," and defied "special groups" to take away labor's gains.

While his advocacy of Roosevelt New Deal and Truman "Fair Deal" policies was well known, death sealed his position on future CIO politics.

An early backer of Adlai Stevenson for the presidency, Murray declined comment last week when Stevenson and the supporting CIO's Political Action Committee went down to defeat at the polls.

"I will indulge myself the luxury of comment on the bedlam of the last three (election) months at the National Convention in Los Angeles," he told steel workers Saturday night.

That convention was to open a week from today, but as the CIO's top leadership turned toward Pittsburgh and Murray's funeral there Thursday, there were indications it would be postponed.

The CIO's political stand and a successor to Murray will be the two big questions of the convention.

Some unionists want the organization to get out of political activity and say the political Action Committee's campaigning did the union movement more harm than good. Others want the political arm strengthened.

As for Murray's successor, much of the speculation is centered on two men—Allan S. Haywood, veteran CIO executive vice president, and Walter Reuther, United Auto Workers president.

Haywood, long a stalwart in the CIO's organizational campaigns, is a veteran administrator. But his age, 64, could work against him.

Reuther, 45, is popular and energetic. But he may not want the responsibility of both jobs.

The son of a miners' union official, Murray was born at Blantyre, Scotland, in 1886. He was introduced to unionism at the age of 6, when his father took him to a local meeting.

At 10 he went to work in the coal mines. He was only 16—and making 30 cents a day—when his family emigrated to the United States, settling in the bituminous coal fields of Western Pennsylvania in 1911.

His rise was the familiar story—but the rare fact—of the immigrant lad who made good.

He saved his money for a correspondence course; worked all day and studied most of the night in his self-education; punched his way into labor prominence when he pummeled a company weighmaster for a dishonest weight.

The punch got him fired—but his fellow workers walked out with him and made him a local officer of the United Mine Workers.

It was the last time he used his fists to win a point. Thereafter, he relied on a native caniness and a rare gift for persuasion.

In the union, it brought him to the attention of Lewis, who made him a vice president in 1920.

But most of all, his manner had its effect on his antagonists across the table of collective bargaining.

Morell said yesterday: "Murray was not a table pounder; he did it all simply by persuasion."

From organizer of the steel workers in the hectic mid-30s to their chief in the '40s, Murray had ample opportunity to display his talent.

The union made gains in the hectic 1946 strike.

In another strike in 1949, Murray was credited with breaking the companies' solid front in getting Bethlehem Steel—the nation's second largest producer—to agree to pensions, hospitalization and other benefits. The rest of the industry capitulated a few weeks later.

Another steel strike this year brought Murray into contention with the steelmen again. This time he sought a union shop. He won a partial victory: a modified union shop agreement, but negotiated a sizable wage boost.

Campbell Bingo Buses May Be Suspended

YOUNGSTOWN—The Public Utilities Commission of Ohio is going to take another look into the activities of a Canton bus operator concerning charter runs to a school bingo game at Campbell.

Hanley W. Cone supervisor of the motor bus transportation for the commission made the announcement Saturday in Columbus after being informed that Cardinal Lines of Canton, interurban bus firm operated by Robert G. De Arment Jr., was maintaining charter service to the bingo spot.

De Arment, along with officials of the A. & M. Transit Co. of Alliance, previously had been warned by the commission to cease what it termed illegal charter operations. At that time both firms had been warned by Cone that he would prefer charges against them if they failed to comply with the order.
